Season 3 Episode 73 - Live Mediumship Demonstration

Unfiltered, Unedited, and Unapologetically Real Mediumship

Hello, everyone! Welcome to Mediumship Matters with me, Hannah Macintyre. What follows is a live demonstration of mediumship, recorded with my students and wonderful podcast supporters. A huge thank you to those of you who subscribe and support this work—I appreciate you more than words can say!

Now, I asked Spirit to deliver a true representation of mediumship, including all its ups, downs, and unexpected turns. And wow, did they deliver! This is completely unedited—every pause, every "no," every moment of discovery is exactly as it happened. Because, let's be honest, mediumship isn't about perfection—it's about honesty, trust, and working with what comes through.

Key Moments to Look Out For:

- The Power of Subtle Evidence: Watch for when I'm working with Cindy, discussing her husband's passing, and keep referring to something about the head. It turns out he was acknowledging a head injury Cindy herself had sustained—absolutely mind-blowing!
- A Spirit Watching His Own Passing: For the first time ever, I had a spirit show me that he was fully in his spirit body, standing beside his physical body while medics worked on him. This detail became incredibly meaningful to his loved one.
- An Unexpected Spirit Connection: Eleanor received a message from a loved one she had never met, proving that spirit communication isn't limited to the people we knew in life.
- A Friendship Bracelet with a Message: When working with Cat's friend in Spirit, I physically felt the sensation of a friendship bracelet being tied around my wrist. Spirit loves to use physical sensations to make their presence known!
- The Mystery Link: In classic mediumship fashion, there's a moment where no one initially claims a connection—until someone bravely speaks up, revealing that the spirit was waiting for the right moment to be acknowledged.

This episode captures the real, raw, and beautiful nature of mediumship. It's not about getting everything right the first time—it's about doing your best, staying open, and trusting the process.

How the Demonstration Works:

- I connect with loved ones in Spirit and bring forward evidence.
- If you recognize who I'm talking about, raise your hand (or wave if we're on video!).
- I'll determine if I have enough information for one person or if the message needs further clarification.
- Please respond with yes, no, maybe, don't know, or can you clarify? But don't feed me information! Part of the magic is allowing Spirit to unfold their messages naturally.

Key Takeaways:

- Mediumship is unpredictable—sometimes you'll get incredible hits, and other times, it's a journey of discovery.
- Spirit knows who is listening and watching, even when I don't.
- No medium gets it 100% right all the time, and that's perfectly okay!

Enjoy the episode! I hope it inspires you, reassures you, and maybe even makes you laugh. Let's celebrate the wonder of Spirit together.
